Skill Information Sheet

It is difficult to tell prior to a relief trip what kind of work will be needed. The ability to be flexible is one of a volunteer's most important qualities. However, it may help the coordinators to know what kinds of skills the members of a group have. Please fill out this form and include it with your registration. Not having these skills does not affect your ability or usefulness as a volunteer. A skilled coordinator will be available to train volunteers in necessary tasks. You will not only be helping others, but you may be learning new skills for yourself as well!

Please put a check next to those tasks for which you have some ability or experience.
